

Helping Financial Service Providers Bridge the CX Gap and Build Trust

From retail banking to card services and consumer financing, customers are gravitating more toward "experience leaders" than legacy brands in the financial services sector. With rising expectations and increased competition, VXI helps financial services and fintech brands bridge the CX gap, striking the right balance between human and digital support.

Our comprehensive CX capabilities include everything from experience design and journey mapping to customer care and digital enablement.

Our BFSI Expertise

With over 20 years of experience in the industry, our teams excel at leading with empathy and enabling customers to manage their finances confidently and securely. Whether assisting with a loan, opening a new account, or addressing fraudulent activity, VXI offers a customer-first operating model and innovative CX Advisory services to minimize friction and maximize efficiency, while adhering to strict regulatory environments.
